The Loan Company,

I have worked with the term "hard money lending" in my past for one reason or another, I tend to work with unusual non-conforming properties. Once again I found myself asking for unconventional funding. The Loan Company was quick in their decision, understood my goals, and didn't give me the feeling that I was putting my collateral in jeopardy. As a matter of fact their decisions left me in a position to re-finance out of a temporary loan and into permanent financing once my remodeling is complete.

The Loan Company fits a special niche in lending to people like myself who are willing to pay a little more for quick funding and a willingness to understand unconventional but still good business decisions. I am thankful that there is a fair lender to go to that I can work with.

Thank you, Gloria Poore
